Evolution Gaming launches Super Sic Bo, an exciting take on the classic dice game

Evolution Gaming, leading provider of Live Casino solutions, has launched its all-new live dealer Super Sic Bo. Available on desktop, tablet and smartphone, Evolution's Live Super Sic Bo is a modern, user-friendly take on the ancient dice game that extends the game by adding exciting random multipliers that can increase winnings by up to 1000x.

Just like traditional Sic Bo, Evolution Live Super Sic Bo is played by predicting the outcome of the roll of three standard dice. Players place their bets on one or more of the many result combinations shown on the game's betting table. What makes the Evolution game significantly different from standard Sic Bo is that random multipliers are applied to between zero and several bet spots just before the dice are rolled in the Evolution game's custom dice shaker. If the player's bet is placed on a bet spot with a highlighted multiplier, the payout is multiplied accordingly.

Todd Haushalter, Chief Product Officer at Evolution, said: "Sic Bo has not changed in the last 100 years but we have done something players will love to this classic game – added random multipliers of up to 1000x! This is the most player-friendly Sic Bo game in the world, and we think players will love it."

Haushalter added: "This is totally authentic Sic Bo, but with massive added excitement. It's simple to play for new players, yet totally satisfying for Sic Bo devotees. The super-engaging User Interface and high payout RNG element in particular will appeal to the widest range of players, including slots players."

Live Super Sic Bo streams live from Evolution's primary central studios in Riga and is available now to all Evolution licensees.
